

LEADERSHIP

Nemphos Braue was founded in 2016 by George Nemphos and Tim Braue. The growing team at Nemphos Braue includes accomplished counselors in all areas of corporate law.

George Nemphos

George Nemphos has extensive experience in representing and assisting clients in entity choice and formation, mergers and acquisitions, private placements of debt and equity, complex joint ventures, structural and day-to-day issues, as well as corporate governance and securities law compliance. Nemphos spent a majority of his career with big international law firms, and brings a unique perspective to client issues. He is known for his practical and business oriented solutions to legal issues. He frequently advises clients in the manufacturing, consumer products, restaurant, automotive, retail and wholesale, industrial services, technology, and insurance industries, as well as companies in the capital markets, life sciences and homeland security space.

Tim E. Braue

Prior to forming NB Law, Tim Braue worked at some of the largest corporate practice law firms in the world, leading transaction teams in complex, multibillion-dollar financing and acquisitions. In his role at Nemphos Braue, he represents private companies, venture capital investors and private equity funds in connection with mergers and acquisitions, private securities offerings and general corporate matters. Braue's clients include manufacturing and industrial services companies, pharmaceutical and medical device businesses, telemedicine and high-tech telecommunications companies, real estate development firms, insurance entities and emerging food and beverage industries.

“Nemphos Braue has been an invaluable resource to me and my team. They offer a commonsense approach and think like entrepreneurs which is unusual for attorneys. George is a business lawyer, and he and his team have our best interests in mind. They do what it takes to get the deal done while managing and advising us on risk vs reward in every decision we make.”

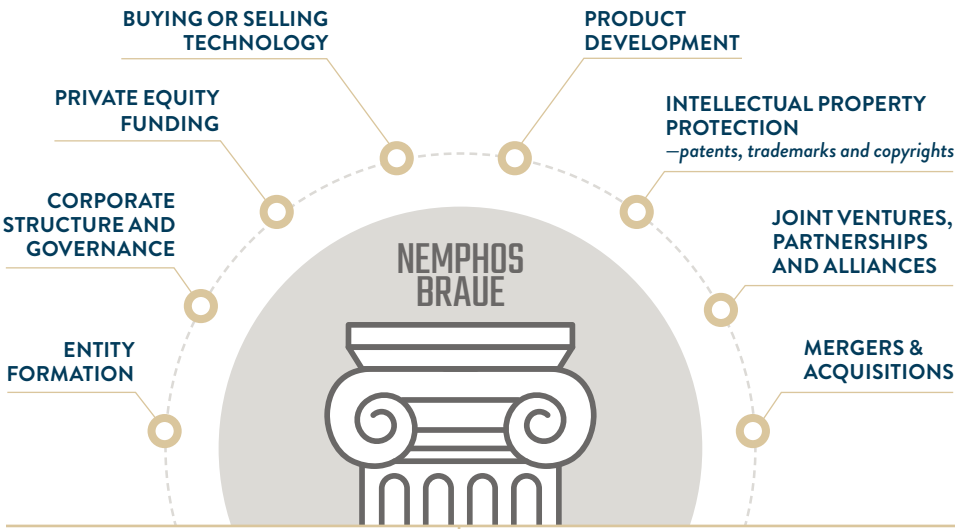

—Ryan Sysko, CEO of Amalgam

REPRESENTATIVE TRANSACTIONS

- Partnered with the lead executives of an established GovCon IT consulting/developed business as it leveraged its intellectual capital and product suite to create a new business designed for use by private enterprise
- Lead counsel for venture capital and private equity funds investments in excess of $1 Billion in transactions
- Sale of credit card processing company to private equity fund, as well as day-to-day corporate and business legal advice and planning
- Provided initial structuring advice, formation and documentation for an industrial services roll-up, as well as day-to-day corporate and business legal advice and planning

WHY HIRE US?

At Nemphos Braue, our clients always come first and trust that we will work hard to understand their needs and challenges. Our team approach allows us to provide creative and effective legal solutions across all disciplines and offer the best results to manage our clients' legal and business objectives. Our attorneys develop strong relationships with our clients, creating compelling cases to fight for the best outcome for their businesses, and investing time to develop strategies to ensure the client is successful.

“[George] is truly submerged in all things Tessemae’s. George provides a great independent point of view that takes into account all sides of an issue. He always comes to the right solutions and the right path to take moving forward. He also understands when to be super aggressive and when to take a softer approach.”

—Greg Vetter, CEO of Tessemae’s

AREAS OF PRACTICE

- Business/corporate
- Entrepreneurs and emerging companies
- Intellectual property and technology transaction
- Mergers & acquisitions
- Private equity and venture capital
- Maryland regulatory
- General counsel

“The team at Nemphos Braue is very hands-on. They are willing to go to war to help their clients achieve their goals. I have known George for more than 20 years—he is personally committed to his clients. George is a business guy who happens to be a lawyer—he not only solves problems, he prevents them, handling things right from the beginning.”

—Alessandro Vitale, CEO of Awayk Health

INDUSTRIES WE SERVE

